DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 8 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Caracci et al. (U.S. Patent No. 6,563,973 "Caracci") in view of McMahon et al. (U.S. Patent No. 4,278,327 "McMahon").

Caracci discloses a light guide having:

a planar light guiding medium (Figures 9) being of a liquid crystal material and having a top light emitting surface (output side) and one or more side faces disposed around the top light emitting surface (input side);

a plurality of light pipes (Figure 3 elements 75 and 77), each light pipe having a collector end for collecting light and an output end, the output ends being arranged along the side faces so as to introduce the collected light into the guiding medium to be emitted at the light emitting surface;

wherein the output ends of the light pipes are distributed evenly along the or each side face.

Art Unit: 2871

Caracci fails to disclose the output ends as arranged so that a plurality of the output ends are along each of the side faces having an output end. McMahon, however, teaches side faces of an analogous NxN cross-connect having multiple output ends on each side face in which the light pipes are distributed evenly along each side face (Figure 9A).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have formed the NxN cross-connect disclosed by Caracci such that the output ends are arranged so that a plurality of the output ends are along each of the side faces having an output end. One would have been motivated to form a plurality of ends along each side face to form an array of such switches to increase the capacity of the switching device (Column 13 lines 12-32).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-7 are allowed.

Reasons for indicating allowable subject matter remain as indicated in the Office Action mailed on 11/10/04.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 8 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
